Profile

I am aiming to develop myself more and more every day in order to closely follow the development of the information sector, which is changing rapidly with each passing day and constantly adding information, and to meet the needs. I graduated from Akdeniz University Management Information Systems Department. I am a very social person in I enjoy reading books, magazines and articles. I love to do activities that relax the soul, such as hiking and camping, and I am very happy to travel and explore new places. I read, I learn, I value science and art and think. I write code and I'm interested in philosophy. I am prone to teamwork, can produce in-team solutions, value counter-ideas and have a determined nature to implement them. I think analytically and creatively and can easily apply what I learn. I also want to concentrate on the Frontend field and specialize in this field.
